SATURDAY . . . . . NOV. 17, 1906.

Mrs. Alapai is doubtless doing a heap of thinking.

"Home, Sweet Home" would be an appropriate air for the band when on parade on Thanksgiving Day.

New York can hardly be congratulated upon the ending of the public careers of its two United States Senators.

After nearly three months' silence, Secretary Atkinson has developed a sudden interest in Hawaii, and especially in its immigration affairs.

He will be a brave man who wants to take the band away from Hawaii again, and they will be brave band boys who will venture upon another trip.

Forester Hosmer is one of those public officials of whom we hear little but know that he is doing good in a work that will be of untold benefit in the years to come.

The promotion spirit has reached Montevideo, where millions are to be spent in laying out a grand avenue, a mile long, for which streets and private property will be appropriated.

San Francisco wants one large building in which all its Federal offices can be located. So does Honolulu, and we think that our chances of getting one are better than those of our neighbor across the lake.

The next session of the Legislature is less than three months distant, and it is time to begin thinking of the laws that will need amending as well as of those that should be enacted for the good of the Territory.

Since the return of the hand-boys has been settled, it looks as if election aftermath would hold the public stage through contests and disqualifications. Then it should be time to hear from Mr. Sargent on the Japanese Immigration question.

"Pusky" is a new soda fountain drink. It was invented by the Creek Indians but has not yet been reported upon by the Indians of Honolulu. One of the effects claimed for it is that it makes a man carry his wife around in his arms just for the exercise.

Although Senator Bailey solemnly asserted that he was not, and never has been, the paid attorney of the Standard Oil Company, the legislators from Wood County, Texas, were instructed to vote against him just the same. The Wood County folk must be settlers from Missouri.

Bay State fishermen are not taking any chances on the market. With wireless apparatus in one of the boats of their fishing fleet, they keep in touch with the Hub and get the daily quotations on cod, mackerel and other citizens of the deep. On a rising market they are willing to unload, but they put a little further out to sea when quotations decline. Whether this comes within the scope of the anti-trust law has not yet been tested in the Massachusetts courts.

THE CUBAN SITUATION.

Why not a public discussion of the Cuban question before Delegate Kubio leaves for Washington? Nothing that will come before Congress during its next session can possibly be of any greater moment, or graver consequence, to Hawaii than the future disposition of the island in the West Indies that is our direct rival in everything pertaining to our general commercial success and individual prosperity.

With its large area of extremely fertile land, its cheap labor, its proximity to the principal consuming markets, and the plethora of capital that is only awaiting the most opportune time to aid in its development, Cuba stands out as a constant menace to every Hawaiian interest. With the Philippines threatening us on the one side, and Cuba on the other, it seems to the Bulletin that our situation is one of grave perplexity that calls for the serious consideration of every resident in this Territory, no matter what may be his creed, condition or citizenship. There is no use in attempting any concealment of the issue that confronts us, and men of all political parties should get together and discuss it freely, fully and openly. If nothing more is accomplished than the passage of a series of resolutions, these will strengthen the hands of our Delegate and aid him in the tremendous responsibility that rests upon his shoulders. Should he feel in need of further assistance it should be promptly tendered him. Every Member of Congress should be made aware that Hawaii is opposed not only to the annexation of Cuba, but also to the granting of any special privileges that will tend to aid in its development to our detriment.

And the work should not stop here. Every steamer leaving for the Coast should carry hundreds of letters and hundreds of postal cards to Congressmen, and to our personal friends in the East, continuing the fight until the present Congress has terminated its last session on March 4, 1907. Our newspapers of all classes, our news correspondents, our promotion committee should get busy and keep busy in the good work. Meetings should be held in Hilo, in Kohala, in Waikuku, in Lahaina, in Lihue, in Waimea, and at every other center of population throughout the Territory. Gatherings of Hawaiians and of Portuguese should be held, where resolutions can be adopted of similar tenor. A small fund might be established for the purchase of postal cards, each person taking them being pledged to forward them to the East. Little printed slips of paper might be inserted in every private and business letter, that leaves Hawaii during the next two months, with the slogan, "Help your friends in Hawaii against Cuban annexation."

The Bulletin calls upon W. A. Kinney for the Democrats, Clarence Cooke for the Republicans, and W. O. Smith for the business men, to get together and arrange for an enormous mass-meeting to be held in Aala Park, to let Congress know that Hawaii is fighting the fight of her life for her present and her future existence and prosperity. Let the Delegate return to Congress with the unanimous support of all the people whom he represents. Let his pockets be filled with the strongest resolutions that can be framed on behalf of Hawaii, and let him be backed in every possible legitimate manner after he leaves for Washington.

THE PRIMARY LAW.

In nearly every State in the South some form of direct primary enactment has found place on the statute books, but these laws are optional and are employed only by the dominant party because the matter of expense is left with the parties. Such laws exist in South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia and Tennessee. The Democrats in several of these States have nominated their tickets by direct primary because they found it expedient, and in Georgia, Virginia and Tennessee the Democratic legislatures are bound morally by the primary vote in nomination of candidates for the United States Senate. The Massachusetts law does provide for direct nomination of Aldermen and Common Councilmen in Boston, and in Chelsea, as adopted, delegates pledged to candidates for the mayoralty nomination are elected at the primary elections. The law is general in the sense that, throughout the Bay State, the several parties are required to elect annually at the caucuses their proper and necessary committees, also the primary election officials. The dates for primary elections are fixed by the several parties, and party caucuses must be held on different days. Ballots and polling places are furnished by the cities and towns. The officials are warden, clerk and five inspectors. They are elected at the September caucuses to serve for one year from the first of the following month.

On the authority of J. R. Galt it may be stated that the $250 which has headed the Bulletin's hand subscription list for some time, does appear in the list published in the Advertiser, though under the individual names of the donors. It will further be observed by a close examination of the contributors that there has been nothing forthcoming from the coffers of the porous pompous, or the morning sheet for which he is responsible.

Guess all day,
But you can't guess that.
(A corset).

Serious damage to the magnificent central portal of Sologne Cathedral is feared. Several large pieces of carved stone have fallen and numerous other portions show signs of loosening. The Cathedral, begun in 1248, was not completed until 1850. It is generally regarded as the finest piece of gothic architecture in the world.

CUBAN MINISTER TO THE U. S. RECOMMENDS PE-RU-NA.

Senor Quesada, Cuban Minister to the United States.

Senor Quesada, Cuban Minister to the United States, is an orator born. In an article in The Outlook for July 1899, by George Kennan, who heard Quesada speak at the Estaban Theater, Matanzas, Cuba, he said: "I have seen many audiences under the spell of eloquent speech and in the grip of strong emotional excitement, but I have rarely witnessed such a scene as at the close of Quesada's eulogy upon the dead patriot, Marti." In a letter to The Peruana Drug Mfg. Co., written from Washington, D. C., Senor Quesada says:

"Peruna I can recommend as a very good medicine. It is an excellent strengthening tonic, and it is also an efficacious cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh."—Gonzalo De Quesada.

Mr. Will A. Hoffman, Hagerstown, Ill., writes:
"I gladly give my testimonial with the thousands of others who have been cured by the use of Peruna."
"I had catarrh of the head and throat. I took cold easily and was dizzy-headed."
"I was all rundown and hardly able to work at all when I began using Peruna."
"But, now, after using it about six months I am well and strong."
For special directions everyone should read "The Life of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by the following drug-

THE BEST TENNIS MEN

Rating tennis players is not the easiest task, since there are so many little details to be considered. A competent arrangement of the English players recently has been made, and A. F. Wilding, perhaps the most industrious player of the year, is held no higher than fifth. The placing of the English experts is interesting to American players.

Wilding's tennis genius seems to be inherited, for his father also was an excellent player in his day—in fact, a remarkably good player at the present time.

The following arrangement is largely arbitrary, the choice of names is arbitrary. But it represents in a rough and ready way the present capacity of English singles players, as evidenced by their performances on grass during the last season.

M. L. Doherty undoubtedly comes first. He has played three matches—the two international against Little and Ward, and the championship challenge found against F. L. Risely. Little in a memorable game robbed the champion of two sets, Risely of one.

Doherty still is first. The gap between him and his nearest competitors has narrowed. His game is less severe and rather less consistent than in the two years before.

F. L. Risely not less certainly is second. Not only did he win the all comers' singles, but the Northern, the European at Leicester and the Irish championships. Twice he has beaten Smith and Gore, once Wilding. At Wimbledon he lost to the champion and at Sunbitten to Wilding. But the latter was Risely's first engagement for the season, while Wilding was in full practice.

WORLD'S CHAMPION MEDALS

The design of the emblem to be given to the world's champion White Sox as a souvenir of the victory over the Cubs in the world's series is in the form of a medal, which can be worn as a fob or otherwise. The design represents the globe encircled by a band upon which is marked "World's Champions" in black enamel and White Sox in white enamel. Over this is raised a winged foot with a leg in white stockings and blue trousers, representing the colors adopted by the champions. The winged foot rests on a platinum "home plate," around which are grouped two bats and a platinum baseball. Over the globe
